BCC's Welch, James receive star honors

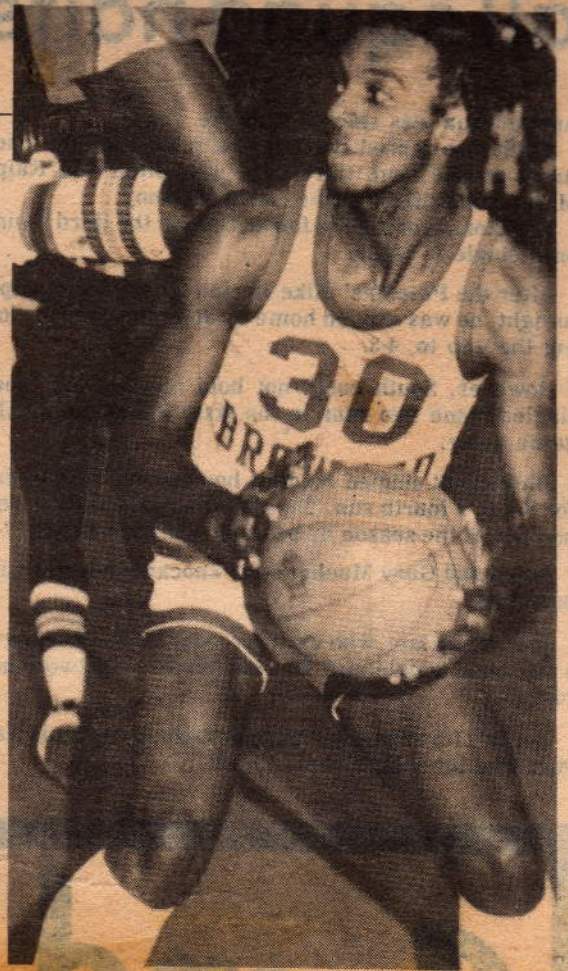

Broward Community College Seahorse Roman Welch, a 6-foot-6 forward who tallied 22 points a contest, recently was named to the Florida Community College Athletic Association All-State Basketball Team.

Welch, a freshman who led the Seahorses in scoring, also was picked for FCCAA Division Four All-Conference Team along with teammate Ellis James, a 6-foot freshman guard who netted 16 points per game.

Welch and James, who paced the Seahorses to an 18-8 overall record and a 9-5 conference slate will join reserves Greg Madry, a 5-foot-11 guard, and Glover Gilley, a 6-foot-5 reserve center, to form the nucleus of next year's squad.

"We've got two good returning ballplayers and hopefully with the people we intend to recruit we're looking forward to a good year," said Dan Wyatt, BCC assistant coach.

Welch played high school basketball at South Plantation while James competed at Hollywood Hills.
